- Instructions
 1. Using the supplies above, cut the construction paper into strips, not too thin because words will be written on them; for post-its, cut them in half (Eight strips of paper will be needed).
 2. On each strip of paper, write the following terms: pictures, title, pages, author, front cover, back cover, illustrator, and copyright info/publisher. *
*Side note: Adults can choose to do more or less of the terms based on how they deem this activity to be for their child/children.
 3. On a chosen or given book, have the child use the paper labels to identify the parts of the book.
